PAWN SHOP BURGLARIZED

Daring Break on Daniel Street Some Time During Friday Night

The pawn shop of M. Silverman on Daniel street was touched up last night by burglars who did a daring job and got but little for their work. This morning when the proprietor opened up he found the place had been tramped and jewelry was lying around on the show case and shelves. The crook or crooks did the job by forcing an entrance from the back of the shop close to the residence of A. C. Amazeen. Finding the window nailed down the glass and sash was broken and to make a way to get in. After breaking the glass the thief found several iron bars running up and down the inside but this did not discourage him as he forced one of the iron rods from its place and the way was clear.

He was then obliged to crawl under a shelf in a space not over a foot to get on to the floor.

Tried to Open Safe

The attempt to open the old fashion ed safe behind the counter shows that the work was not that of a professional as it resulted in a bag mess. The burglar was decidedly green at the business as he tried to break the safe combination lock with the aid of a carpenter's chisel and an axe when he might have used the proper tools a cold chisel and machinists' hammer which were handy close to the safe. The axe used had blood stains on the blade and handle probably caused by broken glass.

Took Rings from Showcase

The intruder after failing to open the safe then helped himself to jewelry but only selected five rings from the show case, some of which were of no great value and must have been frightened at this time and in his hurry to escape left watches, rings and a revolver on the show case. He certainly earned everything he got and no expert crook would ever undertake the hard work as this man did on this job of breaking and entering.

BURGLARY AT KENNEBUNK

Kennebunk, Me., May 29.—The hardware store of Harry Lunde was burglarized during Friday night.

The thieves seemed to prefer weapons. They cleaned out the stocks of rifles, jackknives and razors and took a number of other deadly weapons besides some safety razors. It is wondered here whether they might be afflicted with the gang that operated in Portsmouth.

HISTORIC MENTION

The marble tablet in St. John's church, erected to the memory of Hon. Elijah Hall, officer of the U. S. ship "Ranger," under command of Capt. Paul Jones, will be appropriately decorated today by James H. Dow, chairman of Ranger Section, No. 17, U. S. Naval League, of this city.

The children of the local schools, belonging in the state of Maine, on Memorial day morning are to throw the flowers from the U. S. S. Maine instead of on the bridge as heretofore and the New Hampshire children are to do the same from the U. S. S. New Hampshire. This custom of remembering the sailors who lost their lives at sea is very impressive.

Yesterday, Mr. James Boardman, who is carrying people across the river in his motor boat, carried 150 sailors from the Maine and 150 from the New Hampshire across during the day which was a large liberty party.

Mr. G. L. Langton, a former resident of Kittery; this afternoon was married to Miss Mary Hollingshead of Jersey City at her home. On their wedding trip they will be the guests of Mrs. John Langton.

On Wednesday afternoon next will be a meeting of the York Rebekah Aid Society with its president, Mrs. Leslie I. Williams of Love lane.

Mrs. Warren Roberts and little son and Miss Marie Sherburne of North Berwick are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Call of Love lane.

A valuable education feature in connection with the observance of Memorial day were the addresses delivered on Friday afternoon. The Hon. Moses A. Safford spoke at the Wentworth school. Superintendent of Schools Elmer E. Burham at the Fernald school. Rev. Edward H. Macy at the Shapleigh school and Hon. Horace Mitchell at the Horace Mitchell school.

The services at the Second Methodist church on Sunday will be in their usual order, with preaching by the pastor, Rev. Daniel Onstott, at 10.30, followed by session of Sunday school. At the five o'clock vespers service there will be special music with a short sermon by the pastor. The Epworth League will meet at six o'clock in the vestry.

Riverside lodge, I. O. O. F., will omit their regular meeting on Monday evening and will meet again on June 7.

Kittery Point

Persons having any stray items of gossip will confer a great favor by calling up the Herald correspondent, telephone 297-5, and letting him know about it.

A debate was held in the grammar room of the Horace Mitchell school Friday afternoon as to whether Sherman's March to the sea or the Battle of Gettysburg was the greatest event of the Civil war. C. H. Wilson, a veteran, discoursed on them to the scholars, after which Miss Mildred Sawyer, William Seaward, Edgar Seaward, Harold Grace and Joseph Cutts, defending Sherman's ride, won from Miss Florence Brooks and Miss Violet Pruett, representing the Battle of Gettysburg. The judges were C. H. Wilson, Rev. James A. Donahue and Principal John W. S. Hodgdon.

Friday was an unlucky day for sons of the old world seeking their fortunes in the land of promise. A Frenchman employed by the New England Telephone company had his knee broken when a cable reel weighing a ton, fell on it near Norton's Sliding, York Harbor, and was taken to York Hospital. An Italian, working on the Atlantic Shore line road bed, had a thumb crushed and was taken to Portsmouth, where it was amputated.

Within the past few days some of the largest two masted schooners on the coast have been in port. The Henrietta Simmons of 228 tons, the J. V. Wellington of 256, the Pochasset of 254 and the A. F. Kindberg of 226.

THE BODY IS THAT OF GEORGE CASWELL

Found on Newington Shore and had Been in Water Long Time.

The body of a drowned man was found floating in the upper river late Friday evening, by Fred Bassett. It was discovered off the Shackford farm in Newington, about half a mile south of Newington station.

From all appearances the body has been in the water for a long time, and it is badly decomposed. It is that of a man about forty years of age, and uncertain occupation. He is dressed in dark clothes, wore a dark sweater and rubber boots.

Medical Referee A. J. Lanco was called, but as it was late and it would take some time to get to the point where the body was found, he gave orders to Valentine Coleman, who owns the Shackford farm, to haul the body out of the water and out of reach of the tide, and so that he could carefully view it this morning.

At first it was thought it might be the body of Philip Staples, who was drowned off Elliot last year, but the size of the body and the clothing both show that it is not.

No other man has been reported missing along or above the Piscataqua river that has not been accounted for. The body of the man drowned in the Lamprey river was recovered and the Durham students also. It is possible that the body may have come down the river, and that theory starts people to thinking of the other unidentified body that was found within the last few days in the Cochecho river.

Dr. Lanco made his official examination this morning and expresses the opinion that the body had lain in the water all winter. The pockets contained many small pieces of coal and considerable coal dust, which, with the character of the clothing leads to an inference that the dead man may have been a coal handler.

Some papers found in the pockets have been dried and an attempt will be made to decipher them.

The body is in charge of Undertaker O. W. Ham, and has been deposited in the tomb.

It is George Caswell

Warren Caswell of Rye was in the city this morning to make inquiry as to whether it may be the body of his son, George Caswell, a fisherman who has been missing since February. No identification can be made from the body itself in its present condition, but the clothes are similar to those worn by the missing man. The father is inclined to the opinion that the body is somewhat too large for his son. This afternoon it was definitely so identified.

George Caswell, better known as "Bert" Caswell, was thirty-eight years of age when he disappeared. No clue has been found as to what became of him, unless this body may prove to solve the mystery, and that clue is as yet uncertain.

Mr. and Mrs. Berry, after their return from a wedding trip, will reside at an apartment in the house of Mrs. E. M. Berry.

The marriage of Caroline Benton Hatch to Dr. Donald C. McLachlan will take place on Tuesday afternoon, June 1, at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. John Hatch.

STRATHAM

The men of Stratham, or at least those taking part in the concert on Wednesday evening, the 26th, proved conclusively that they are capable of doing a few things without the assistance of the gentle sex. They were blessed with good weather which brought out a house full of people, who gave one storm of applause from start to finish. The programme included a piano solo by Harrison Pickering, who is truly a master of the instrument; a cornet solo, "The Blue Bells of Scotland" was beautifully rendered by Irving Godfrey, and the audience were not slow in showing their appreciation. Percy Jewell was as charming as ever in his readings and stories. Could you think of charging him with over-zealment? C. Harry Sparks made quite a hit with his impersonation of the colored bride, waiting at the church. The harmonica quartette rendered two very pleasing numbers and were applauded heartily. In the farce, William A. Snow was the sensation of the evening; his impersonation of "The Irish Justice" would provoke laughter from the groghest pessimist. Charles McKenna as the policeman whom the judge has great trouble in keeping awake was certainly a "swell" cop. John Chase as the boy who stole a loaf of bread, Albert West, the colored dive keeper, Edward Cooper, who married three of Stratham's charming damsels; Irving Godfrey, the witness who was sentenced to 45 years, all deserve commendation. Benjamin Pray, as lawyer Pennell, was earnest and sincere pleading for his clients, even though the judge did not favor him much. Percy Jewell, accused of embezzling and stealing car rides, luckily was discharged and so remains on the hall team. George Jewell, the Jew, accused of stealing pickles, proved an alibi but was given a dose of Paris green. The farce was staged by Sparks and Snow.

Mrs. D. C. Littlefield went to Cleveland, O., last week, to visit her son James, who has made his home there for the past two years. ## YOUR COMPLEXION

As a complexion study, nothing is so difficult as to keep the complexion clear and healthy. It is the most important part of a woman's appearance, and it is the one that is most easily spoiled. The most common cause of a bad complexion is the use of cheap and inferior cosmetics. These not only do not improve the complexion, but they actually make it worse. The only way to keep the complexion clear and healthy is by the use of a good hair tonic. ED. PINAUD'S HAIR TONIC is the best. It is a pure and natural preparation, and it will improve the complexion and make the hair beautiful, heavy and lustrous. Use it every day and watch your hair improve.

Real Facts About the Hair

The air is full of floating dust, dirt and disease germs, which settle upon everything. There is a natural oil on your head that holds the dust fast, and in a short time you have dandruff and scalp troubles. The pores in your scalp are stopped up, the hair roots get no nourishment, and then your hair begins to fall out. It is all such a simple matter that a child can see that cleanliness is the one and only thing needed. You don't need tonics, renewers, invigorators or hair growers. You need Birt's Head Wash, which will put your hair and scalp in a healthy, natural condition, and you ought to use it at least once a week. It puts the scalp in such healthy shape that faded, lifeless hair resumes its natural color, and the hair of all who use it takes on a soft, silky gloss and sheen that every man and woman so much admires. There is no alcohol in Birt's Head Wash, as alcohol is said to make hair turn gray prematurely. Birt's Head Wash is made of Refined Soap, Cocaine, Coconut Oil, White of Eggs, Glycerin and Salicylic Acid. There are no better things than these known for cleansing the hair and scalp, and any doctor or druggist will tell you so if you ask him. Price 50 cents.

that they have spent their time wisely and well. This wholesome and beneficial play is surely a step toward a purer and finer use of the art of playwriting, for such dramas as this do good, while many others do harm. The play teams with sunshine and shadow, and its popularity is unquestioned. The Avery Strong Company will also present this play during the stay in Portsmouth. A special matinee will be given on

STATE COLLEGE

The annual government inspection of the New Hampshire college battalion of cadets took place at the college on Friday, the inspecting officer being Capt. J. A. Penn, general staff, U. S. army. The unit at New Hampshire college is a battalion of three companies, with a military band, officered by cadets selected for character, soldierly bearing and efficiency. The cadets wear gray uniforms with black trousers stripes, black braid on cuffs and collar of blouse and blue caps, army regulation. Upon the graduation of each class the names of such students as have shown special aptitude for military service are reported to the adjutant general of the state. The names of the three most distinguished students in this department are inscribed in the United States army register.

Great credit is due Commandant Capt. W. E. Hunt and Cadet Major Carl D. Kennedy for the neat and polish with which the drill was carried off.

DISCHARGED PENNILESS

Matter Said to Cause Trouble At Newport Training School

Newport, May 29.—The naval authorities at the Newport Naval Training station are determined to stop the practice of apprentice seamen selling their peajackets when they are on shore leave, over which practice there has recently been some agitation. During the present week eight apprentices have been tried before summary court martials and found guilty of disposing of their coats, the sentence for which offense was a dishonorable discharge from the naval service.

This has revived the old question of whether the naval authorities should send into Newport discharged apprentices without funds. Out of the eight who have been discharged this week seven called at the police station for financial assistance to get out of town. Only one of the eight had money enough to take him back home.

Under the naval rule, discharged men are allowed to take their bedding. This was disposed of through the assistance of the police, and in this way money enough was raised to start the boys toward home. The city authorities object to these boys being thrown on the city.

The government claims that when a boy enlists in the navy, the uniform outfit, which is given to him, belongs to the government until after he has served out his enlistment, when the clothing account is called off. If the full enlistment is not served, and the boy is discharged as undesirable, the uniform is taken away and other clothes given him, usually the suit in which he came to the station originally.

It is the government rule when an apprentice is to be dishonorably discharged to notify his parents or next of kin, so that money can be sent to take the lad home, if he has no money due him from the government. In many cases the money is not forwarded. In these cases the lad is sometimes able to scrape together enough money from his shipmates to start him homeward, but at all events the boys are not turned out of the service without a week's warning.

His parents thought he was at a show in the city hall and waited until the play was over before putting the police at work. His father and mother watched the people come out of the hall and the boy was not there.

TRAIN BROKEN INTO SECTIONS

Objection to Negro Fireman
on Railroad Engine

ENGINEER HIT BY STONE

Load of Perishable Provisions Is Left on Track as Result of First Act of Violence In Georgia Firemen's
Strike—Railroad and County Officials
Do Not Agree In Their Reports
Concerning the Matter

Atlanta, May 29.—The first violence to railroad property in the Georgia railroad firemen's strike occurred last night to a moving freight at Lithonia, and in consequence the race question looms more sharply than ever over the situation, notwithstanding a day of much apparent progress toward settlement.

A negro fireman was apparently the cause of the trouble and he was rushed to Atlanta on an engine to save him from a threatening situation. The trouble started in the throwing of one or two stones and the boarding of the freight by men who set the brakes and broke it into three sections.

The engine left here late yesterday for Lithonia to bring a trainload of perishable provisions from the siding at Lithonia into Atlanta. Assurances have been given for several days that in the interest of local shippers whose valuable cars were tied up no demonstration would be made against hauling these cars to Atlanta. When, however, the engine reached Lithonia about dusk it was seen to carry a negro fireman, as did the mail trains which passed Lithonia earlier in the day, exciting unfavorable comments.

About 200 people gathered at the station and just as the train was getting under headway, it is said, a stone flew in the cab window and hit Engineer Downing.

Next, according to the railroad officials, several men boarded the cars, set the brakes and cut off the air, causing the last car to break loose from the train. They also uncoupled the engine, leaving its load stalled. According to the railroad's statement no attempt was made by local authorities to interfere with the attack.

The report telephoned by county officials to state officials here said merely that there was no violence, that the train had run a short distance out of Lithonia, where it was stalled by accident and that the engine continued to Atlanta. After the train had stopped, said the report, a small sized crowd swarmed upon the freight cars.

The railroad authorities will attempt to clear the track at Lithonia for the mail trains today and deputies will probably be used to protect the train crews in clearing the track.

Yesterday brought forth almost simultaneously the possibilities of speedy state or federal intervention believed by many persons of wide acquaintance with local conditions to be heavy with danger of race trouble. It is admitted that either federal or state authorities can run the trains and preserve armed order, but if the railroad insists on its rights to hire negro firemen it is feared that racial enmity and reprisals on negroes will be stirred up in regions remote from the railroad tracks.

The coming today of Chairman Knapp of the interstate commerce commission is regarded here as indicating that federal intervention may result if the strike is prolonged.

The status of arbitration for settlement has remained unchanged.

SOCIETY WOMAN ARRESTED

She Is Charged With the Larceny of Bonds Valued at $2000

Boston, May 29.—Mrs. Jessie L. Briggs, widow of a former prominent manufacturer in Taunton, was arrested by the local police on the charge of the larceny of $2000.

Mrs. Briggs is prominent socially in Taunton, and upon the death of her husband shared with the children of Briggs by a former marriage a considerable fortune. This fortune, it is said, became impaired through unfortunate investments, and Mrs. Briggs is charged with the larceny of certain bonds to the value of $2000.

The Future of Harvard

Cincinnati, May 29.—"Harvard must become a great national college or university or it will not fulfill the purpose which we all entertain." This declaration formed the keynote of an address by President Lowell of Harvard at the session of the Associated Harvard clubs, representing many parts of the United States.

Growth of Business Confidence

New York, May 29.—R. G. Dun & Co.'s weekly review of trade says that progress, slow but constant, is again the record of the week. The growth of business confidence is, indeed, more notable than the increase in the volume of trade.

Will Not Re-employ Strikers

Paris, May 29.—The chamber of deputies rejected a motion for the reinstatement of the postal employees who were discharged from their positions because of their connection with the recent strike.

CORRUPTION IN TURKEY

Diplomats of High Degree Said to Have Been Concerned In It

Berlin, May 29.—The Lokai Anzeiger's Constantinople correspondent says that he learns from persons in high authority that the sudden recall of the French ambassador, M. Constans, and the Russian ambassador, M. Zinoviev, was due to the discovery in the Yildiz palace records that Abdul Hamid had paid Constans 2000 Turkish pounds monthly and Zinoviev 1000.

According to the correspondent the archives also contained compromising letters and receipts for money signed by Kiamil Pasha and he asserts that evidence against Ferid Pasha, minister of the interior, also was found, and that this started a violent agitation in favor of forcing him to retire from the cabinet.

"It is also proved," the correspondent says, "that Tefik Pasha, now ambassador at London, played a double role. So many of the members of the old regime were smirched by Abdul Hamid's archives that the Young Turks are agitating publicly the placing of power in new hands."

BATTIS FOUND GUILTY

Convicted of Stealing Money From
City of Boston by False Bills

Boston, May 29.—George H. Battis, former alderman, who also formerly served in the lower branch of the legislature and in the common council, is adjudged guilty of larceny from the city. The verdict was returned in the superior criminal court.

It was claimed that in 1906 Battis, then an alderman and in charge of buying the city's prizes for Fourth of July athletic contests, caused a bill for $45 worth of cups to be raised to $81, and that the following year a bill for $141.75 was increased to $440 at his request, thereby defrauding the city of Boston of $334.75.

Battis was released in $2000 cash bail last night. A short time after Councilman McCullough, who was convicted on May 17 for defrauding the city, was set at liberty under $3500. McCullough had been in jail since his conviction. It is understood that a number of politicians furnished the bail money.

ROGERS FORTUNE LEFT IN TRUST FUNDS

These Will Eventually Return to Residuary Estate

New York, May 29.—The will of the late Henry H. Rogers was admitted to probate here. According to its terms practically the entire estate, valued, according to Wall street estimates, at between $50,000,000 and $75,000,000, will ultimately be divided among the four children and their heirs. Half of the equal shares into which the residuary estate is divided will be given to the four when they reach the age of 40, while the remaining half they may dispose of only by will, continuing, however, to enjoy the income until their death.

No estimate of the value of the estate is given in the will. The widow and a large number of relatives are provided for through funds, the interest on which they will receive during their lifetime, the principal reverting to the estate upon their death. Mrs. Rogers' annuity is specified at $100,000. The others, only ten in number, will receive the interest on amounts ranging from $10,000 to $200,000.

The only public bequest is one of $100,000 to the town of Fairhaven, Mass., to be used for school purposes.

NO INTERVENTION IN CUBA

Last Experience Cost Our Government
More Than $7,000,000

Washington, May 29.—Prompted by newspaper reports that the American government contemplated intervention in Cuban affairs because of evidence of extravagances in fiscal matters, a stranger put in an application at the war department for employment in the event this action is decided on.

He was informed that nothing of the kind was contemplated. The second American intervention in Cuba cost the government more than $7,000,000 and there is a fervent wish that the United States will not have to take charge of affairs in the island again soon.

TELEGRAPHIC BREVITIES

The International Council of the Olympic Committee decided to hold the 1912 Olympic games at Stockholm.

Fred Woodman, a teamster, aged 43, was found dead in the highway at Center Ossipee, N. H., near a load of logs which he was driving. It is supposed that he fell from the load and was run over.

Fire destroyed tapestries and silk and velvet hangings said to be valued at $50,000 in the Hotel Knickerbocker, New York. The fire was caused by the short-circuiting of electric light wires.

Charles Kenny, for over a quarter of a century prominently identified with the ivory business of Boston, died at his home in that city, aged 55. He served on the staffs of Governors Greenhalge and Wolcott.

COPPER BOOKS NOT PRODUCED

United Company's Directors
Unable to Get Them

ORDER OF FEDERAL JUDGE

Heinze Refuses to Comply With It, on Ground That He Is Under Indictment and Further Investigation—
Court Appreciates Honest Efforts of Men to Get Out of a Serious Scrape

New York, May 29.—The federal grand jury investigation of F. Augustus Heinze, in connection with the alleged misapplication of the funds of the Mercantile National bank, took a sensational turn when United States District Attorney Wise applied to and secured from Federal Judge Lacombe an order directing certain directors of the United Copper company to produce the full and complete books of that concern in court forthwith or be declared in contempt.

The directors named, Sanford Robinson, Chester Glass, William J. Curtis and Horace Abel, reported to the court that they were unable to comply with the court's order, as Heinze, the president of the United Copper company, had refused to give them the books or tell where they were. Heinze gave as his reason, they said, that he was under indictment and further investigation, so that they were helpless for the moment, but would make every effort to get into the company's vaults and search for the books if given time.

The directors told the court that they had called a special meeting, to take place in a few days, when Heinze and Secretary-Treasurer Gifford, the latter, it was alleged, having fled to Europe, would be deposed from their official positions with the company. Heinze, the directors added, had also told them that Gifford had taken the minute-book with him to Europe.

Frederick Eckstein, the assistant secretary and treasurer of the company, who was included in the court order, said that he knew the "combination of the vaults and was ready to aid in securing the books if they were still there.

Judge Lacombe declared that under the circumstances he would be lenient and give the directors further time to recover the books. He fixed Tuesday afternoon as the time for them to report in court again and added:

"The court appreciates the honest efforts of the directors to get out of the scrape. They are unfortunate in getting associated with a man who is too terrified to allow his books to be examined. As long as the books are on earth and have not been burned the effort must be made to produce them."

The directors involved, Eckstein, Assistant District Attorney Smith and two deputies went to the offices of the United Copper company last night to hunt for the books. Heinze had gone, but Eckstein readily opened the vaults. He stepped inside, turned on a light and then exclaimed: "They're not here."

The subpoenas called for a total of sixteen books but none of them was found in the vaults. Some books other than those called for in the subpoena were found and these were placed in charge of the United States marshal.

United States District Attorney Wise was indignant over the manner in which the United States court and his office had been "baunted by Heinze," as he expressed it. He referred to it as a "cowboy hold-up."

TROOPS ARE UNRELIABLE

Hints That Bad News May Soon Be Forthcoming From Adana

Constantinople, May 29.—Disquieting news has been received here from Adana. The Moslems are resenting being compelled to make restitution for the property stolen from Armenians, and the troops employed in searching out such property are proving unreliable.

The dispatches say that rumors are current of a reactionary movement among the troops and of a possible renewal of the anti-Armenian outbreaks, and that it will probably be necessary to send a fresh draft of troops to Adana.

BANDMASTER A SUICIDE

War Department Was Inquiring Into
His Official Conduct

West Point, May 29.—Bandmaster George Essigke, who had been in charge of the military academy band for more than fifteen years, committed suicide by inhaling illuminating gas. Worry over investigations begun by the war department into his official conduct are assigned as the reason for his act.

Essigke was under charges in connection with the manner in which he induced three German members of his band to come from Munich and enlist as musicians at West Point. The three men alleged that the bandmaster had grossly misrepresented conditions here to them. They further charge that Essigke, while acting as interpreter, had altered their ages in their enlistment papers.

It was also alleged that Essigke had recommended that the government purchase band instruments which he had himself bought a short time before and turned over to a Newburgh dealer.

TRIP TO SING SING IS POSTPONED

Duffy Saved at Last Moment
From Dreary Journey

New York, May 29.—Handcuffed to a number of other prisoners, bound for Sing Sing, where he was about to begin serving a term for procuring illegal registration, Frank Duffy, formerly assistant to a Tammany district captain, was just starting from the Tombs prison here when a taxi-cab dashed up and the deputy warden was served with a writ procured by Duffy's counsel from Justice Hartnett of the court of appeals, authorizing a temporary stay of sentence.

Duffy was returned to the Tombs and next week will apply for bail, pending a hearing on his appeal to the court of appeals.

Recently the motormen and conductors were voluntarily given a raise of 1 cent an hour, to become effective on July 1. A recognition of the union is the end sought to be gained by the proposed strike.

CONEY ISLAND WINS

by New York Magistrate

New York, May 29.—Four test cases against proprietors of minor Coney Island shows, who were charged with violating the Sunday laws, were dismissed by Magistrate Tighe.

BOYS TO SHARE IN BIG REWARD

They Discover Hidden Tools
of Train Robbers

THREE ARRESTS ARE MADE

Postoffice Inspectors and Police Feel Certain That They Have Men Who Held Up Train at Omaha City Limits—Located Mail Pouches Found In Schoolhouse Attic—Fine Detective
Work by Teacher

Omaha, May 29.—Three small schoolboys brought about the arrest of three men believed to be the robbers who on May 22 held up the overland limited train on the Union Pacific railroad at the city limits of Omaha and a schoolteacher discovered the looted mail pouches seized at that robbery. To these three boys and to their teacher probably will go $15,000 reward offered by the Union Pacific railroad, if the prisoners prove to be the men wanted.

Fred Tordensen and W. D. Woods were last night identified by Engineer Mickeljohn and Fireman Prawl as the men who crawled over the tender of their locomotive and forced them to stop the train. Engineer Mickeljohn was especially sure of Tordensen because of several peculiarities in his physical make-up. He also declared he was equally sure about Woods. Several schoolchildren also identified all the prisoners as men they had seen in the vicinity of Brown Park school Sunday and Monday.

The police made the arrests, but to the sharp eyes of schoolboys belongs the credit of discovering the hidden tools of the robbers, thus bringing about the arrests of the suspects, and to the deductive reasoning of Mrs. Nora Freeman, a teacher, scores of detectives ascribe the finding of the robbers' loot in the attic of the schoolhouse.

When schoolboys found hidden on the banks of the Missouri river revolvers, lights and other material used by robbers, they told their teacher, Mrs. Freeman. She advised the police, and detectives, after a thirty-hour vigil, arrested the three men now in custody.

Following the arrests near the schoolhouse, scores of detectives began to search for further evidence. While these sluths were busy in vain, Mrs. Freeman noticed that a ladder used for reaching the attic of the school building had been displaced. She decided that the attic had been used as a lair. Lanterns were procured and she sent two men into the attic, where they found eight registered mail sacks, two raincoats, a long topcoat and a pair of overalls. The police were then called.

An examination showed that every letter and package had been torn open, the contents of value removed and the letters stuck back in the envelopes.

Postoffice inspectors and railroad officers are convinced that in the arrests brought about by the pupils they have apprehended the train robbers.

Postoffice inspectors regard the arrests as the most important made in years.

GUILTY OF MANSLAUGHTER

Chauffeur Ran Down and Killed a Boy
In New York

New York, May 29.—William B. Darragh, aged 21, the chauffeur who ran down and killed highway trier, the 11-year-old son of a Kentucky lawyer, in this city, was found guilty of manslaughter in the first degree. Darragh was remanded for one week to await sentence. The maximum penalty for the crime is twenty years.

After his machine had knocked down the boy and crushed him, Darragh put on extra speed and fled, leaving his victim to die in the street. He was traced to Texas, where his arrest occurred.

Darragh's conviction is the first under the amended section of the murder law.

A PERILOUS JOURNEY

Shipwrecked Men Travel a Hundred
Miles Over Ice Fields to Safety

St. John's, May 29.—After their rescue, the two Arctic explorers, had been crushed in the ice 100 miles off the coast. Tuesday noon, the crew of nine men were forced to take to their boats amid the menacing ice fields and arrived here last night after an ordeal which was pregnant with peril and during which they nearly lost their lives.

The Electra was bound from Oporto, Portugal, to St. John's with a cargo composed largely of wines. The consignees had some time since given the Electra up for lost, the barkentine having been sixty days out from Oporto.

When the crew landed here wet, bedraggled, weary and cold, they presented an abject spectacle. From such disasters escapes have been few and all nine sailors were thankful for their deliverance.

The journey of more than 100 miles over broken and insecure areas of ice was alleviated somewhat by the risky experiment of lanching their trail boat and braving the pressing flocks. The men's escape is regarded as approaching a miracle by the native fishermen here.

Their foresight in providing rations forestalled any shortage in food or drink, and the paucity of neither were added to their already sufficient dangers. With a few days of recuperation, it is expected that the crew will be none the worse for their experiences.

FIVE UNIONS PUT OUT

Refused to Obey Federation of Labor
Order to Strike

Boston, May 29.—Boston Building Trades Department of the American Federation of Labor last night expelled from its membership five of the most prominent labor organizations in Boston.

The labor unions expelled are Plumbers' union 12, 600 members; Sheet Metal Workers' union 17, 400 members; Gas Fitters' union, 200 members; Electrical Workers' union 102, 600 members, and Wood, Wire and Metal Lathers' union 72, with 600 members.

The reason is that the locals mentioned refused to obey the order of the department to strike on work being done by Contractor Harvey at the new opera house on Huntington avenue, at the Somerset hotel extension, and at the sugar refinery in South Boston.

St. John's, Que., May 29.—Philippe H. Roy, formerly president of the Bank of St. John's, was sentenced to serve five years in the penitentiary, the maximum sentence, for falsifying the returns of the bank's condition.

The bank failed last year as the result of the alleged embezzlement of thousands of dollars, and the business men and farmers throughout this district lost heavily. Roy was a prominent politician and was formerly speaker of the Quebec legislative assembly.

On Wednesday last, during the trial, Roy procured a revolver and shot himself. The wound was but a slight one, however, and did not prevent his appearance in court.

SAVE OUR FORESTS

Over in England, when making his great speech in presentation of the annual budget before parliament the chancellor of the exchequer, Mr. Lloyd-George surprised the British nation by taking up a topic not exactly new to the British people, but always here before ignored in the votes passed by parliament.

In outlining the Budget's proposals for forestation and national development, the chancellor said that it might not be the function of the government to create work, but that it is an essential part of its business to see that the people are equipped to make the best of their country and, if necessary, help it to do so. A state can and ought to take a larger and wider view of its investments than individuals. The resettlement of deserted and impoverished parts of its own territories might not bring to its coffers a direct return which would reimburse it fully for its expenditure, but the indirect enrichment of its resources would more than compensate for any apparent or immediate loss. Any man who had crossed and recrossed England from north to south, and from east to west, must have been perplexed at finding there was so much waste and wilderness possible in such a crowded little island.

"This brings me straight," Mr. Lloyd-George continued, "to the question of afforestation. There is a very general agreement that some steps should be taken in the direction, I will not say of afforesting, but of reforesting the waste land of this country. Here, again, we are far behind every civilized country in the world. In Germany, for instance, out of a total area of 133,000,000 acres 34,000,000, or nearly twenty-five per cent, are wooded. In France, out of 120,000,000 acres, seventeen per cent are wooded. In the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland out of 77,000,000 acres, only 3,000,000, or four per cent, are under wood. The number of people directly employed in forest work in this country is only 16,000, and yet the climate and soil of this country are just as well adapted for the growth of marketable trees as those of the estates of Germany. Recently we have been favored with a striking report of a Royal Commission, which outlines a very comprehensive and far reaching scheme for planting the wastes of this country. The systematic operation which the commission recommends is a gigantic one, and before the government can be committed to it in all its details it will require very careful consideration by a body of experts skilled in forestry. I am informed that there is a good deal of preliminary work which ought to be undertaken before the government can safely begin planting on the large scale indicated in that report. I will tell the House what we propose to do. There is a certain amount of money, not very much, spent in this country, in a spasmodic kind of way, on what I may call the work of national development—in light railways, in harbors, in inland but very meager assistance to agriculture. I propose to gather all these grants together into one national sum development grant and to put in this year an additional sum of 200,000 pounds for these purposes. Legislation will have to be in troduced, and I will then explain the objects in greater detail, but the grant will be used in the promotion of schemes which have for their purpose the development of the resources of the country. It will include such objects as the institution of schools of forestry, the purchase and preparation of land for afforestation, the setting up of a number of experimental forests upon a large scale, expenditure upon scientific research in the interests of agriculture, experimental farms, the improvement of stock, the equipment of agencies for disseminating agricultural instruction, the encouragement and the promotion of co-operation the improvement of rural transport so as to make markets more accessible, the facilitation of all well considered schemes for attracting labor back to the land by small holdings or reclamation of wastes. Every acre of land brought into cultivation, means more labor of a healthy and productive character; it means more abundant, cheaper, and better food for the people."

Other authorities estimate that there are about 20,000,000 acres of waste land in the United Kingdom and that at least half of this area will produce timber if planted. A yearly appropriation for forestation and national development along the lines indicated in the chancellor's speech would ultimately result in immense benefit to the country, and make it far less dependent than at present upon foreign sources of timber supply, which, in many cases are decreasing.

England feels this worse than does the United States, but for the United States an ounce of prevention ought to be worth a pound of cure

LITERARY NOTES

The June Atlantic

The June number of the Atlantic Monthly opens with the first installment of General Marris Schaff's new series of war memories, "The Battle of the Wilderness." Those who recall the charm and interest of General Schaff's earlier series, "The Spirit of Old West Point," will read these opening pages with especial pleasure.

A melancholy interest attaches to the publication in this number of another paper by Anna A. Rogers as it was completed only a short time before her death. Mrs. Rogers will be remembered as the author of one of the Atlantic's most successful papers, "Why American Marriages Fail." In this paper she has discriminating and pungent to say under the title, "Some Faults of American Men."

HELD MEMORIAL EXERCISES

The children of the Cabot street kindergarten, Miss Colburn, principal, held memorial exercises at the Soldiers' monument at Goodwin park, Friday forenoon. The little people all marched to the park where, after a simple little exercise by all laid their offerings of flowers about the monument.

ADIES, WHY NOT PRESERVE YOUR YOUTH AND BEAUTY?

Nothing so detracts from the attractiveness of women as dull, faded,usterless hair.

There is no excuse for this condition nowadays, because notice is hereby given to the readers of the Herald that Parisian Sage, the quick acting hair restorer, is now on sale at Portsmouth at the drug store of Goodwin E. Philbrick and is sold with a rigid guarantee at 50 cents a bottle.

Since its introduction into America, Parisian Sage has had an immense sale, and here are the reasons:

It is safe and harmless.
 It cures dandruff in two weeks, by killing the dandruff germ.

It stops falling hair.
 It promptly stops itching of the scalp.

It makes the hair soft, glossy and luxuriant.

It gives life and beauty to the hair. It is not sticky or greasy.

It is the delectable perfumed hair tonic made.

It is the best, the most pleasant and invigorating hair dressing made. For sale by the leading druggists everywhere. The girl with the Auburn hair is on every package.

Eight shy of the druggist who offers you a substitute, he is unworthy of your confidence.

This is what Mrs. Elizabeth E. Anderson, Mechanicville, Pa., writes: "I had given up hope of ever being cured of dandruff, when I purchased a bottle of Parisian Sage. It has entirely removed the dandruff, and has started a growth of new hair, and all this after having been troubled for 15 years. I cheerfully recommend Parisian Sage."

A TIMELY TOPIC

 DR. JOHN LOVETT MORSE,

Prevention of Tuberculosis

Spitting in public should be stopped. We have a law that prohibits it, but everybody spits just the same. Why, go on the elevated or in the subway and you will find the guards expectorating, and they are there to see that others do not.

Figures obtained by autopsies on children show a frequency of tuberculosis varying between 16 per cent. in Boston to 24 per cent. in Prague. Boston has the smallest percentage of any large city in the world.

While direct heredity practically never occurs, it seems safe to assume that a predisposition or better, a diminished resistance to tuberculosis, is inherited.

This susceptibility is probably greater than that transmitted by other debilitated or alcoholic subjects, and different from the natural predisposition of early life.

Bronchitis, measles and influenza are often followed by tuberculosis. It is not necessary for infants to have measles and whooping cough. These should be more carefully avoided. These should be reported to the health authorities as are diphtheria and scarlet fever.

A farmer who sells milk from a cow infected with tuberculosis, if not actually a murderer, is an accessory before the fact, and instead of paying him for killing the cow he should be heavily fined.

Theoretically marriage should be forbidden to the tuberculous, but practically this is impossible. It should be permitted, however, to those in whom the disease has been quiescent for several years and who have a good constitution and a good family history.

There is no better way in which to expose infants to contagion than by kissing. It should be stopped. The only pleasure is that of the person who kisses them. The baby never likes it, but cannot help itself.

Public hospitals should be provided for consumptives. It is not the fault of the patient, and it is up to the public to see that a place is provided for them.

PRESENTED WITH SILVER SERVICE

Minister to Greece, George H. Moses, Given Farewell Reception.

Hon. George H. Moses of Concord, the minister to Greece, was tendered a reception by a party of prominent New Hampshire friends at the Parker House in Boston on Friday evening. Mr. Moses will sail this morning for his post and the gathering was in the nature of a farewell. At six o'clock Governor H. B. Quinn, in behalf of the gathering, presented Mr. Moses with a solid silver service. He made a most eloquent speech and Mr. Moses responded in his usual eloquent manner, expressing his sincere thanks for the gift.

Following the presentation a lunch was served, and the new ambassador given a rousing send-off. Among those present were Governor H. B. Quinn, Lester Thurber of Nashua, Col. Stephen Jewett, Laconia, Secretary of State Edward N. Pearson of Concord, Col. George D. Leighton, Col. R. H. Rolfe, Concord, Col. Thomas H. Dearborn of Dover, Congressman Frank D. Currier of Washington, John W. Kelley and F. W. Hartford of this city. Mr. Moses will sail at six o'clock this morning for his new post and he will take charge about the first of July.

JOLLY TARS' ANNUAL DANCE

Club of Battleship New Hampshire Entertain at Freeman's Hall.

The third annual ball of the New Hampshire Jolly Tars, a club composed of sixty-three members of the crew of the battleship New Hampshire, was held at Freeman's Hall on Friday evening, and it was a great success. It was entirely an invitation affair and there were upwards of two hundred couples present. The hall was very handsomely decorated. The national colors, of course, predominated, and the ship's flag locker had generously contributed to the decoration. The stage was draped in large American flags, while the sidewalks and the gallery facades were draped with the signal flags of all nations. An orchestra from the battleships' band gave an excellent concert before the dancing. There was a well selected list of 24 dances and it was about three o'clock when the gathering broke up, well pleased with the first entertainment of the Jolly Tars in this city. During intermission Reich catered and served ices, cake, and fruit punch. The officers of the dance were: E. Miller, president; R. H. Conover, vice president; C. L. Lovercheck, treasurer; C. A. Elly, secretary. Arrangement committee, J. C. Clark, H. R. Lavan, D. J. Lane, F. Shimsky; door manager, C. H. Snow; sergeant-at-arms, C. J. "Art" Spaulding is singing that new Kerry Mills barn dance, "Down at the Huskin' Bee," and a swell novelty song, "Lonesome," and is making a great hit with both. Delano, the Hess Sisters, Zaranos and the other vaudeville acts close their engagement tonight. "Happy Bill" Delano is making a great hit in his new tramp act in which he introduces some tricks on a unicycle. The show this week has been playing to large audiences and has pleased them all.

DOVER DOINGS

Dover, May 29.—The building on Third street, recently purchased by T. W. Woodman and in which is situated the Merchants' National bank, will be enlarged and the banking quarters will be consequently improved, the fast increasing business of the institution demanding some such addition. The building on Orchard street in which Neal's book bindery is situated will soon have a brick addition, work on the same now being under way. The pet dog of Elias Dowaliby is another victim added to the list of those that have been poisoned during the past few days. The dog was taken suddenly sick while passing along the street and before anything could be done to relieve him of his suffering he passed away. Mr. Dowaliby prized the dog highly and is willing to give a nice reward for the apprehension of the party that did the job. A bunch of fast ones will be seen at Granite State park, Monday afternoon. Frank Hanson's black gelding is the only horse from this city which is entered, and he will be seen in the 2.17 class, trot or pace. It was planned originally to have three classes, and each class was to be trot or pace, but the 2.25 class did not fill, so that in order to give those in attendance a good afternoon's sport, a special race will be put on. There are nine entries for the 2.17 class, and five for the 2.21 class. Effie May, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Holly, of 1156 Washington street, was united in marriage with George William Robinson of Haverhill, Mass., on Thursday evening. The ceremony was performed by Rev. William M. Balch of St. John's Methodist church, and the best man was Ernest Nelson, a friend of the groom. Edith Holly, a sister of the bride, was maid of honor. Many beautiful presents were received by the young couple and a host of friends extended their wishes for a long and happy wedded life. The Fr. Matthew, C. T. A. society held the last dance of its winter series at American hall Friday evening, and the event was a fitting climax to the many previous successful social events held by them in the past. The attendance was exceptionally large, many guests from out of town being present to enjoy the pleasures of the evening. Harry Edgecomb, principal of the Farmington high school, will deliver the Memorial address at the opera house on Monday evening.

SOLDIER'S ASHES SUNK Lowered Into Water Where Confederate Had Fought. Norfolk, Va., May 28.—In the channel of Hampton Roads, off Sewell's Point, on Thursday, the ashes of an ex-Confederate soldier who recently died in Seattle were lowered into the water in a small silver casket, in which they were sent from Seattle first to Richmond and then to Old Point Comfort by direction of the deceased. The burial was made by W. H. Fitzgerald of Richmond, by whose side the Seattle man fought in the United Artillery of Norfolk at Sewell's Point in the civil war. The identity of the deceased has not been revealed.

SEA FISH PROTECTION

Canada and United States Talking a Plan for Co-operation.

Washington, May 29.—Commissioners and counsel operating under the treaty between Great Britain and the United States providing for the adoption of uniform and effective measures for the protection of the food fishes in the water contiguous to the United States and Canada are in session at the state department. Prof. David Starr Jordan is the United States and Prof. Edward Prince the Canadian commissioner, while C. P. Anderson is legal adviser on the part of the government and N. S. Girbourne on the part of Canada. The commissioners have been at work for about a year and have completed a set of regulations to govern fishing, which, if adopted by both governments, will go far toward protecting and preserving the fish and will avoid friction and strife arising from a lack of knowledge regarding the limitations put on citizens of the respective countries by other along the border line. Recently dispatches from Canada have intimated that the agreement reached by the commissioners is in the main satisfactory to that government. As soon as accepted by both governments it will be proclaimed.

GLOUCESTER SCHOONER IN MUD

Gloucester, May 29.—Despatches received from Capt. Wm. H. Collins, underwriters' agent, state the towboats have been unable to move the stranded schooners Judique and Lena and Maud at Liverpool, N. S. Their keels are more firmly imbedded in the mud than ever. But eight feet of water reaches them at high tide. Convinced of the impossibility of using towboats, Capt. Collins has sent to Halifax for a dredger to make a channel to deep water about 300 feet distant.

The High school baseball team will play the Rochester team at Rochester this afternoon. Many of the team will remain over to attend a dance to be given by the young ladies of the Rochester school.

FAIR EXCHANGE

A New Back for an Old One—How It Is Done in Portsmouth.

The back aches at times with a dull, indescribable feeling, making you weary and restless; piercing pains shoot across the region of the kidneys, and again the loins are so lame to stoop in agony. No use to rub or apply a plaster to the back in this condition. You cannot reach the cause. Exchange the bad back for a new and stronger one. Follow the example of this Portsmouth citizen.

George S. Chandler, 64 Pleasant St., Portsmouth, N. H., says: "I do a great deal of walking in my work and in this way my kidneys became weakened, causing me a great deal of suffering. About three years ago I learned of Doan's Kidney Pills and began using them. This remedy cured me of kidney complaint and I have had little trouble of the kind since. Sometimes when I overwork of do any heavy lifting I notice a slight lameness in my back, but on such occasions, a few doses of Doan's Kidney Pills bring the desired relief. I have recommended this excellent remedy to many of my friends and in each case where it has been tried, benefit has followed. Doan's Kidney Pills can be procured at Philbrick's drug store and should be given a thorough trial by every kidney sufferer."

"MY COUSIN TIMMY"

A DRAMA SUCCESSFULLY PRESENTED BY SOCIAL CIRCLE OF UNIVERSALIST CHURCH

The drama, "My Cousin Timmy," was given on Friday evening at the Universalist church by the Social Circle of the church, and it was a great success. The play is very amusing and all of the characters were good in their part, and they received well deserved applause from the good sized audience present.
So great was the success of the presentation that it will be repeated in the near future.
The cast of characters were:
Mrs. Bephia Alderney, mistress of the school for girls,
Mrs. Charles Seed
Bonnie Holland, a recent arrival,
Miss Hope Walden
Fudge Tooth, her chum,
Miss Marion Grant
Stella Mayburn, formerly the most popular girl,
Miss Florence Hanscom
School girls:
Rita Garland, Miss Florence Garrett
Mollie Jones,
Miss Heloise Whittier
Mollie Schooner,
Mrs. G. C. Humphreys
Jonas Chorker, the gardener,
Frank Grant
Maggie Blings, the maid,
Mrs. George Alexander
Prof. Timothy Addies, Miss Alderney's brother,
Hayden Paul
During the evening there was a sale of home made candy under the direction of Miss Mabel Shedd and Miss Margaret Garrett.

ladies' quartette composed of Miss Bemis, Miss Armstrong, Mrs. Banda and Miss Pinkham. Miss Grace Lavina Trafton, contralto, from Lynn, Mass., and Mr. Men Brant of York are soloists and Miss K. E. Marshall accompanist. Parker Post, No. 39, of Kittery, will join in the parade. The exercises will be held in the Congregational church at the Village.
The large pine tree, which has stood for ages back of the Burrage cottage at York Village, has at last been felled to the ground. This act was deemed advisable because of the weak condition of the tree and the danger to passersby from falling limbs. The tree was one of the oldest landmarks in the Village, and could be seen for miles around. The tree was ordered cut down by the board of selectmen after several complaints had been lodged. Those living in the immediate neighborhood have been especially strenuous in urging that the tree be cut, as they were afraid someone while passing might be hurt, or else huge limbs be blown in a storm on to adjoining houses. When the tree was brought to the ground, it was found that the huge trunk was almost completely hollow, only a thin shell remaining.
Stover Perkins, who recently sold the "Bruce" cottage at Cape Neck village to John E. Plaisted, has invested the proceeds with other money in one of the best tracts in the town of York, being the Foster Sweet and Charles Wilson farms with the pasture and woodlot thereon, in all about two hundred acres. Mr. Perkins will place the management of the farm with his son Ernest who will conduct it under modern methods. Already one acre of Danvers and Yellow Globe onions are standing three inches high, two acres of potatoes have been planted, and now they propose to plant three acres of corn. Mr. Perkins feeling that at present prices and those likely to follow there is money in corn, visitors will be cordially welcomed at "Hill Rest Farm."

Charles W. Walker of this town died on Wednesday, May 26, at the York hospital. Mr. Walker was the eldest son of Richard and Clarissa Walker. He was born in South Berwick in March, 1835. He came to York with his parents in his early boyhood and lived on the village all his life with the exception of the years he spent in the army. He was never married and was the last of a family of four brothers and one sister. The latter married D. A. Stevens and the only descendant of the entire family is Mrs. Alice Badger, the daughter of D. A. and Clara Walker Stevens. In 1863 Mr. Walker enlisted with several others from this town in the 1st Maine cavalry and served throughout the war. He was promoted to sergeant. He was a model soldier. After his return from the army he took up farming again. Funeral services were held on Friday from the residence of Mr. Walter Badger, Friends, and the members of the Veterans and Sons of Veterans Associations were present.

The E. E. Swall cottage at Cauth Side, has been rented to Mrs. Lydia Taft of Milton, Mass.

Mrs. Newton Perkins has opened her summer residence at Sewall's Bridge. Miss Perkins is still in Europe but will be in York in July. They are as welcome as the flowers in spring.
Hon. John C. Stewart has returned from his trip to Louisville, Kentucky, and reports a most enjoyable time. He was particularly impressed with the battle ground of Gettysburg which he visited.

DEAD MAN'S HAND
Rogers Reaches from the Grave to Make a Coup Over Lawson
Boston, May 28.—State street today is discussing a statement that one of the last financial coups of Henry H. Rogers before he died was to cause the loss of several millions of dollars to Thomas W. Lawson and his associates by defeating Mr. Lawson's plan for the issuing of bonds which, it is said, was to have been the climax of the Boston financier's career.
It is declared that had Mr. Rogers lived he would have dealt Mr. Lawson a blow from which he never would have recovered. Mr. Rogers lived only long enough to cripple Mr. Lawson.
Mr. Lawson has declined to discuss the report. All he would say was, "I have nothing to say other than what I have said in my notice to the bondholders of the Process Copper Company."

NEWBURYPORT GETS MONEY

Newburyport, May 29.—The case of City of Newburyport vs. Charlotte C. Cole, was settled yesterday afternoon by a verdict for the city.

This is an action to recover $1500 with interest, the total amount being $288.72, rent paid defendant by former city treasurer, James V. Felker, as is alleged by city checks from city funds.

The defense was that Felker paid his rent by city check and subsequently deducted the amount from his salary, the rent being paid about the first of the month, and his salary being paid about the 15th.

The following question was submitted to the jury: "Did Felker in the case of each check sent Miss Cole for rent, take the check with the intention of so taking it as a part of his salary for the preceding month and with the intention of accounting to the city for that check, and that salary less the amount of the check?"

The jury answered "no." Judge Lawton then directed a verdict for plaintiff of $2385, and told the jury that he should have done so in any event, the answer to the question simply having eliminated a point of law that might have been taken to be supreme court.

SUMMER HOME LOOTED

It is learned that the caretaker at a summer home near Portsmouth received a telegram from the owner in another state, to the effect that a wagon would call for furniture that was to be changed. The wagon called and later it developed that the thing was a big piece of trick thievery. Much valuable stuff was taken.

THE NAVY YARDS HERE AND AWAY

It's Certainly Slow Work

The big hundred ton shears needed so badly as any improvement at the yard, is still waiting to be erected. Thirteen months have passed since the money for this work was available and it appears to many that such delay in getting these shears in place is not necessary and that the iron work should have been up long before this date.

They Did It Well

The crew of sailors from the U. S. S. New Hampshire, who conducted a dancing party at Freeman's hall on Friday night are being congratulated today on the manner which the event was conducted from beginning to end. No social affair ever undertaken by men of the navy in this city was carried out with such perfection as that of the Jolly Tars club last evening, and no pains or expense was considered by the management on this occasion for the enjoyment of the many guests.

Went Home in Style

The big party from Dover, who attended the dancing assembly run by a club from the U. S. S. New Hampshire, returned home after the assembly in several automobiles furnished by the sailors.

New Furniture Arriving

The furniture for the officers' quarters which have lately been renovated has arrived at the yard. The lot is from the furnishing house of Kimball Brothers, Philadelphia, and add much beauty to the several residences of the yard officials.

An Even Dozen Wanted

The labor board today made a call for more help and issued cards for four riggers, three shipsmiths and five blacksmiths' helpers.

Will Sail on July 1

The U. S. S. Wisconsin is due to leave on July 1 for Portland, where her crew will take part in the ceremonies to be held in that city on July 5.

Report June 1

Commander Frank M. Bostwick, who will shortly be captain of the yard will report for duty on June 1.

Ten Hundred and Fifty Now at Work

At present the pay rolls show 1050 men employed on the yard.

Filipinos on the Pinch

A marine guard at the Cavite yard on May 23 made a surprise search of several hundred Filipino employees of the yard and discovered stolen articles on the persons of over forty of the men. Thieving has been going on at the yard for some time past.

Does Not Pay to Take Chances

The discharge of a yard employee, who was detected bringing liquor aboard ship is to be regretted in more ways than one, but should be a lesson to civilians who take such large changes, whether they are employed by the government or not. Such acts bring no good to the station, and the local officials at the yard intend that there shall be no repetition of this kind.

THOUGHT WAS ON WATER WAGON

A sailor from the Wisconsin, who had plenty spare time and part of a good natured jag, did a funny stunt early this morning on Market street.

The jackie, passing along near the corner of Ladd street, spied the big freight delivery wagon of Rufus Wood standing in front of Pryor and Matthews' store and nothing but a ride for him.

He was soon on the seat with as much importance as an old time truckman.

Away he went down Congress street, with the pair of horses and a big load of merchandise, saluting several of his comrades as he passed along to Middle street. The driver, who was on the inside of the Market street business house when Jack annexed himself to the wagon, tipped the police, and Officers McCaffery and Carleton held him up on the speedway. He told some of his shipmates that his intentions were to get on a water wagon, but he made a mistake and took to the freight wagon.

The stunt furnished no end of fun for others of the ship's crew, who happened to be around at the time.

POLICE COURT

Judge Simes heard a score of drunks and other cases in the morning session of police court today. The drunks had the big end of the game and were numerous during the session. There were also a few fighters on the docket.

Conrad Redinch, for assault on Charles Johnson, was one of three in a mix-up on Friday on Fleet street. His case was placed on file during good behavior. William Robinson, another of the fighting trio, was also released. Johnson, who is claimed as causing the row, escaped before the police arrived.

William Buck, who took a tumble into the river on Friday, answered guilty to the charge of drunkenness. He was sent to jail for 30 days.

Richard Sullivan, a very independent knight of the road, who comes from Manchester, was up for drunkenness. He was willing to hunt up a job in Maine and keep out of this city. The court, after imposing six months, sentenced suspended the same, providing he got into York county in quick time.

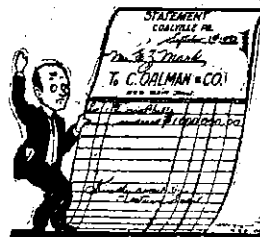

Frank Carlin, drunk, was heard at length about the fight he has been putting up against booze. He admitted it had the best of him so far. The court told him to continue the good work, fight it harder and hoped he would win out. He was released and his case placed on file.

Howard Staples, a new face to the court, will be obliged to serve six months at the farm if he has the misfortune to land before the court again. He was released with a suspended sentence.

James Sillars, drunk, released on promise to leave town.

Rebecca Cohen, who conducts a grocery store at the North End, was heard in a civil suit against Joseph Koschinsky, whom she brought into court for a bill of $50 for groceries. The case goes over till this afternoon for further hearing.

At a special meeting of the P. A. C. held on Friday evening, six applications were reported on favorably and they were elected to membership.
